DEATH OF E. H. IRISH, ESQ.

After an illness of nearly a year, this well known and most excellent citizen expired at his home near Newcastle, Lawrence county, at the early age of thirty-six years.

In consequence of declining health, Mr. Irish relinquished the practice of law in this city, where all the years of his manhood had been spent, and retired to his farm, where the few remaining months of his beautiful life were passed, and where, under the gentle ministrations of mother and sisters, he slowly yielded to what his friends had long seen to be inevitable.

The early life of our friend was spent at New Lisbon, Ohio. He was educated at Washington (Pa.) College; read law with Messrs. Shaler, Stanton & Co., of this city, and was admitted to the bar about 1854. In 1858 he was elected a member of the House of Representatives, and in the following year he was chosen as one of the Senators for this county. In both Houses he represented his constituents with great acceptance, and gained a character for integrity, talents and influence second to none.

Mr. Irish succeeded well as a member of the bar, and retired with a reputation which will long survive him. In his general character he was gentle, quiet, urbane, courteous, kind and benevolent. In the late great national struggle he stood up for his country with all the ardor of his nature; and that over, he espoused the cause of the freedmen with equal zeal, and labored earnestly and effectively in their behalf after he had ceased to labor for himself. He was the Secretary of the Freedmen's Aid Commission of Western Pennsylvania.

His father, Wm. B. Irish, a member of the Society of Friends, once resided in this city, and filled the office of U. S. Marshal during the administration of General Jackson. Whether his son, Elias Hicks Irish, the honored and lamented subject of this notice, was born here we are unable to say. The funeral of Mr. Irish will take place to-day from his late residence near Newcastle.

The hot-blooded Thomas Francis Meagher recently challenged an editor in Montana to fight a duel. The editor very properly refused to comply with the demand to shoot or be shot.

The body of a murdered man about thirty-five years of age, was found floating in the river near Louisville. From appearances the body had been in the water some two or three weeks.

Near Louisville, a lady left in a cupboard, a flask of powder which her two little children got hold of, and playing with it at the fire had their eyes blown out and were otherwise terribly injured.

A white young man named John H. Wood led a black girl to a squire's office in Nashville and attempted to marry her, but the magistrate would not listen to the appeal, as miscegenation is contrary to the laws of Tennessee.

At a Fenian meeting held in St. Louis, on Saturday night, one of the speakers said that all the Johnsons and Sewards in the country could not stop the Irish army this winter from crossing the frozen St. Lawrence. They evidently wait for an ice opportunity to capture Canada.

John Morrissey has a good heart, if he is a buffer and Member of Congress. On learning of the destitution of a sister in Chicago, whom he had lost sight of during the past sixteen years, he at once sent her sufficient money to relieve her wants, and will provide a good home for her.

—At Cincinnati while workmen were engaged in excavating for a new building of the Enterprise Insurance Company on the north side of Third street, between Walnut and Vine they found two large lumps of stone coal, each weighing fifty pounds or over, imbedded in the solid gravel, fifty feet below the level of Fourth street, and twelve feet below that of Third street. To all appearances the gravel was precisely as it had been originally deposited. The question is, how did the coal get there? It had the appearance of having been under ground hundreds of years, and when taken out was thoroughly rotten. One theory is that the river formerly flowed over the ground, and that the coal was washed there by the floods and buried underneath the gravel subsequently deposited. This is the most plausible explanation, though not altogether satisfactory.

—The greatest excitement prevails at Glasgow, Ky., in consequence of the recent oil strikes. Armel's well, known as the big well, near that town, is flowing two hundred barrels per day. Many other wells are being bored, with a fair prospect of success.

—A reckless New York driver ran over an old lady, and severely injured her. She thereupon brought a suit for damages, and a jury awards her $200.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

PENNSYLVANIA, SS:

ANDREW G. CURTIN, Governor of said Commonwealth.

Whereas, It has been the good and worthy custom of the Commonwealth to set apart, annually, a day for the special acknowledgment of the goodness of the Almighty and for expressing by the whole people, at one time, and with a common voice, the Thanks and Praise which throughout the year are springing from the hearts of men, therefore,

I, ANDREW G. CURTIN, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do by this my proclamation, recommend that the good people of the commonwealth observe

Thursday, 29th day November, 1866,

As a day of Thanksgiving and Prayer, and do then assemble in their respective Churches and places of worship and make their humble thank offering to Almighty God for all His blessings during the past year.

For the thus far continued activity of industry;
For the general preservation of health;
And especially for that in His Divine Mercy, He has stayed the threatened pestilence.

And moreover that they do beseech Him to continue unto us all His blessings, and to confirm the hearts of the people of these united States, that by the lawful force of their will, deeds of good Justice, Wisdom and Mercy may be done.

Given under my hand and the great seal of the State, at Harrisburg, this 9th day of October, in the year of our Lord, 1866, and of the Commonwealth the ninety-first.

By the Governor:
ELI SLIFER,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

THE FENIAN PRISONERS.

New York, Nov. 26.—The London Times of the 13th remarks upon the hanging of the Fenian prisoners in Canada: "We are of the opinion that no criminals ever deserved capital punishment more richly than those who are now awaiting their fate in Canada. For these persons Mr. Seward has seen fit to intercede in behalf of the American government. Were parties in America in a normal state, we confess we should receive the news of such an application with very great suprise. It is also unfortunate that indignation meetings should be held by the Fenians throughout the United States, threatening the British government with vengeance if it dare to execute these prisoners, and thus seeking, so far as in their power, to deprive an act of clemency of all its grace and to represent it as the mere result of fear; neither can we admit that the case of the American civil war, as put by Mr. Seward, is in the least parallel to the Fenian invasion of Canada. The Southern States claimed the right to withdraw from a Confederacy into which they had voluntarily entered, and it was easier to refute their claim to secede by the sword than by the pen, but the Fenians have not the shadow of a claim to belligerent rights; they have no government nor territory; they are mere citizens of a friendly State, who choose to rob and murder the inhabitants of a neighboring country on their own account without the slightest semblance of law or justice. Such is the case against granting the request of Mr. Seward. On the other hand there is great allowance to be made for the position of the American Government. The President is struggling for his very existence against an overflowing majority in the contest in which he was engaged. The Fenian vote would have been of infinite importance to him, but he was content to forego that advantage at a most critical moment rather than tolerate any act which might compromise the good understanding between Great Britain and the United States, so anxious was he to prevent the Fenian invasion that he employed Gen. Grant and Gen. Meade, two of the best officers in the American army, on this distasteful and unpopular service. President Johnson, had he been lukewarm in the business might, doubtless, have satisfied the letter of his obligations toward us by much less energetic measures. We do not doubt that his popularity must have suffered by this honorable and straightforward conduct, and that it was in his power to ingratiate himself with the Fenians without involving the United States into an actual collision with us. We owe it to him that Canada has not been made the scene of bloodshed and outrage of every kind, and he asks for the lives of the obscure wretches who are now under sentence of death. It is not for us to say what answer should be given to such a request, but we confess we should regard the granting of it with satisfaction, more especially as the President would be hardly likely to renew his intercession in the case of a Second Fenian invasion."

FROM WASHINGTON.

Public Lands Disposed of—Cessation of Cholera at Trieste—Case of Jacob Thompson—Postoffice Changes—Maximillian's Agent in the United States—Another Race.

Washington, November 26—Returns received at the General Land office show that during the month of October 40,538 acres of the public lands were disposed of at Iona, Michigan, and 13,632 acres at Brownsville, Nebraska—total, 54,470 acres. The greater portion of the lands were located with agricultural college scrip and taken up for actual settlement under the Homestead law. The Commissioner has under preparation a list which will soon be presented to the Secretary of the Interior for approval, of selections for the Central Pacific Railroad, of California, embracing 42,000 acres.

Our Consul at Trieste, under date of November 5th, writes that official notice has been made to him of the cessation of the cholera at Trieste, clean bills of health having been granted on and since the 23d ult.

A statement has been published that the President has given to Mrs. Thompson permission for her husband, Jacob Thompson, to return home. This is untrue. He positively refused to give any such permission, but said Thompson must take the consequences of returning as other prominent rebels still abroad.

During the past three days about seventy postmasters have been displaced, nearly all of the smaller class of officers. Among the new appointments are the following: Hiram Edgerton, Franklin, N. Y.; Wm. H. Parker, Unadilla, N. Y.; Jno. McKeese, Rhinebeck, N. Y.; Jas. A. Fairfield, Kennebec, Maine.

It has been ascertained that Maximillian's tenacity in holding on to Mexico has been due to the expectation, encouraged by the reports of his late agent in the United States, Marleno De Gollado, who had just returned to Mexico, that a new civil war was on the eve of breaking out in the United States, and that this would certainly be the case if the Radicals carried the fall elections. It is expected that all visionaries are now disappointed. The fact is known here that De Gollado could not obtain audiences either with President Johnson or Secretary Seward, while in the United States, all his efforts to have them having failed, notwithstanding his statement to the contrary.

There was another race over the National Course to-day, two local horses, Lady Clements and Unknown, being the contestants. The time was nothing extraordinary, but there was a great deal of excitement among those in attendance on account of the closeness with which the horses kept up. The race was a match for five hundred dollars, mile heats, best two in three. Lady Clements won the first heat in 2:46; Unknown the second in 2:52, and he also won the third in 2:54.

Whisky Distillery Seizures—Remarkable Smuggling Efforts.

New York, November 26.—Additional seizures of whisky distilleries continue to be made. The efforts of the parties engaged in the business to smuggle off the whisky manufactured without a license are somewhat remarkable. Captain Tobin, one of the deputies connected with the Collector's office, seized a dozen barrels of whisky at the old engine house of Company No. 5, in Canton street. Captain Laidlow seized a distillery in Plymouth street, which it is said is owned by Chief Engineer John Cunningham and Wm. Davis. Quite large quantities of whisky was found upon the premises, which was taken in charge by the officers. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the Chief and his partner and they were taken into custody this morning. They immediately gave bail for their appearance, and Collector Wood turned the case over to the United States authorities.

Ferry Boat Destroyed—Billiard Match.

New York, November 26.—To-night at about seven o'clock, the ferry boat Idaho, plying between New York and Brooklyn, took fire in the stream and burned to the water's edge. About thirty passengers were on board all of whom were saved. Some of the ladies with children in their arms jumped overboard, but were rescued. James O'Neil had his head and hands badly burned.

A match billiard game of 500 points up was played between Phelon and McDevitt. The latter made a run of 241 points and won the game. Another game of 100 points up between Carme and Goldthwaite was won by the latter.

Milledgeville, Nov. 26.—In the Senate a bill has been introduced repealing the laws prohibiting aliens from owning real estate. The House has passed a bill granting aid to an air line railway, and prohibiting railroads and steamboats running on Sunday.

IMPORTANT FROM CANADA.

Annexation to the United States—The Fenian Prisoners—A Religious War Imminent—Stevens to Invade Canada—Troops Under Orders.

Montreal, C. E., November 26.—A meeting is called for Wednesday, November 28th, to discuss the benefits to be derived from annexation with the United States. The people of the Lower Province rather favor the idea of annexation, and should it be put upon a fair and equitable basis and submitted to the people, I have no doubt but it would be ratified by a large majority.

The Catholics of Canada East denounce the sentence of Mr. McMahon and the release of Mr. Lumsden in unmeasured terms. They claim that the trials were a farce and that the Government had decided what men should be hung before the trials commenced. The bitter feeling formerly existing between Catholics and Orangemen is beginning to show itself, and should McMahon and the others be hung, it will result in riot and eventually terminate in a religious war.

The Fenian trials to take place at Sweetsburg are exciting a great deal of comment. The Protestants are afraid the prisoners will escape with little or no punishment. The Catholics are hopeful, and say that evidence cannot be produced to convict them. Two important Crown witnesses have mysteriously disappeared, and it is rumored that they have been bought off and left the country.

The Canadian authorities have received information that Stephens is not en route for Ireland, but is organizing an expedition to invade Canada. The troops here have received orders to hold themselves in readiness to move at a moment's notice.

Toronto, Nov. 26.—Rev. J. A. Allan preached last evening in the Episcopal Cathedral, Kingston, to a large and fashionable audience in favor of annexation to the United States.

The Reverend gentleman, in his opening address, remarked: I am aware that what I am about to advocate is at the present moment distasteful to a small portion of the inhabitants of Canada, and there may be a few ignorant persons present who may accuse me of disloyalty to England; yet what I am going to advise is not only in the interest of Canada, but in an especial degree of Great Britain. Let no one be startled when I say that the greater portion of the inhabitants of Canada are in favor of annexation to the United States.

A Republican Triumph.

Hartford, Nov. 26.—At the town election today the Republicans elected their entire ticket, by majorities varying from 34 to 76. Allyn S. Stillmon, republican candidate for First Select man received the highest majority. The vote was light on both sides.

Life Insurance.

By reference to another column, it will be seen that Mr. Wm. Phillips, administrator upon the estate of the late Chas. W. Ricketson, has made public acknowledgement of the receipt of seventeen thousand dollars from the Ætna Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Connecticut, being the amount of insurance on the life of Mr. Ricketson, in this Company.

Also, that Mrs. L. A. Barclay acknowledges the receipt of five thousand dollars from the same company, on the life of George R. Barclay.

We deem the subject of life insurance of so much importance that we desire to call the attention of our readers to these facts and some others in regard to this Company.

The Ætna Life Insurance Company has, by the prompt and careful management of its business, secured for itself a leading position among the first life insurance companies of this country, as the following facts will prove.

By reference to the report of the Commissioner of the State of New York, "it appears that this company issued 8,809 policies in 1865; but one other company issued so large a number of policies; the Ætna issued 6,271 policies more than the average of 'New York companies, or about three and one half times the average, which is 2,538, and 4,875 more than the average of other State companies,' or more than double the average, which is 3,934. Its expenditures were less than any other company transacting business in New York, and that while the average expenditures of 'New York companies' were 46 26 and 'other State companies' 33 44, the Ætna's were only 26 70 (more than twelve per cent. below the general average of all the companies—38 99,) which places it first in this most important particular. In the increase of policies issued over 1864, the Ætna again stands first, being 2,873 more than the increase of the company issuing the largest number of policies for the year ending Jan. 1st, 1865. Thus, Ætna's increase, 4,452; increase of the company referred to, 1,579; difference as above, 2,873; the average increase of 'New York companies,' being 927; 'other State companies,' 1,030; the Ætna's increase as above, 4,452, or 3,280 more than the general average, which is 1,172."

In the Massachusetts Insurance Commissioners Report of 1864, Hon. Elizur Wright says: "Inasmuch as a policy of Life Insurance extends over many probable years, and cheapness on the whole depends upon the extension of business, or the attainment of breadth of base, it becomes necessary to observe what ratio the expense bears to the growth of the Company." These comparisons serve to show the superiority of the "Ætna" in this respect, and places it first in these most important particulars.

It will be seen that the receipts for the first ten months of 1866 were $2,741,107.75, more than double the receipts for the corresponding months of 1865, the increase in number of policies issued in the same time being 4,342.

Mr. Spurgeon has achieved a great reputation as a pulpit orator, which his published discourses do not sustain. There is neither genius nor learning in his works. Theodore Tilton's Lecture.

Theodore Tilton, the able, eloquent and patriotic editor of the Independent, and lecturer on all subjects connected with the elevation of the human race and the best interests of the country, needs no introduction to the people of Pittsburgh and the vicinity. On the occasion of his lecture this evening, he will be greeted by an overflowing audience of those who know and acknowledge his genius and character. His lecture this evening, at the Academy of Music, will have for its subject, "The Corner-Stone of Reconstruction," and the manner in which Mr. Tilton will deal with this subject will undoubtedly be eminently satisfactory to our citizens. The sale of reserved seats will commence at the Academy of Music this morning at ten o'clock.

Cellar Robbed.—Allegheny is going it. At an early hour yesterday morning, the cellar of Major W. McCandless, on Robinson street, Fourth ward, Allegheny, was entered by some unknown party or parties, and robbed of a considerable amount of provisions, among which was a whole barrel of sweet potatoes, a sack of flour, a quantity of meat and various other articles. The robbery must have been committed after one o'clock, as Major McCandless retired at that hour, and is confident that everything was all right when he went to bed. No suspicion of any individual is ascertained.

Crazy Man Taken Up.—Yesterday morning an insane man, a cooper by trade, residing on Third street, in the Third ward, Allegheny, was arrested by officers Hess and Scott, of the Allegheny police, and lodged in the tombs. He became deranged while in the army, about three years since, and has been once in the Dixmont Hospital since that time. He is still in the lock-up.

Meeting of Councils.

A stated meeting of the City Councils was held last evening in their Chamber, in the City Building.

SELECT COUNCIL.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and, on motion, approved.

A communication was read from the City Controller reporting the receipt of a number of petitions from various parties for the reduction of business tax, which he suggested be referred to the Finance Committee without delay, together with the following resolution, which was passed:

Resolved, That the Controller be, and he is hereby, authorized to draw his certificate on the Mayor in favor of Charles Richspan for $854 and charge the same to Appropriation No. 13 Contingent Fund.

A resolution was also received from the same source authorizing the payment of $67.45, being the costs in three suits in which the city had contested the right of certain parties to erect iron-clad buildings within the limits of the corporation, and which had been decided in favor of the defendants. Read three times and passed.

The petitions for the reduction of business tax were taken up and referred to the Finance Committee, with power to act.

The Controller also reported in favor of paying Mackin & McCabe for the paving of certain street crossings, which was put in the form of a resolution and passed.

After a lengthy debate the whole matter was referred to the Street Committee.

Mr. Brown presented the following: "To the Mayor, Aldermen, and Citizens of Pittsburgh: For assessments for opening of Bedford street, Dr $700,37." Read and referred to the Water Committee.

Mr. Morrow presented a communication in reference to the manner in which Clark street is being paved, in which it was stated that the work was being done in an unworkman like manner, and in such a way as to be really worthless. After considerable debate the communication was referred to the City Regulator with power to investigate.

The report of the Viewers appointed to assess damages and appraisements in the widening of Gibbon street, in the Eighth ward, was next taken up and read.

On motion of Mr. Shipton, laid on the table.

The report of the Committee appointed to purchase a suitable lot of ground for the erection of a house for the Duquesne Fire Company, came in from C. C., and, on motion of Mr. Phillips, was laid on the table.

Surety of the Peace.—Margaret Schereizer yesterday made information before Alderman Albeitz, charging Rosina Lochran and Elizabeth Dorn with surety of the peace. The parties reside in West Pittsburgh and had a row. Violent and threatening language was used by the defendant toward the deponent, whereupon the unpronounceable Margaret made the information aforesaid. A warrant for the arrest of the accused was placed in the hands of officer O'Conner.

District Court.—The District Court met yesterday morning, and after calling the roll of jurors, the jury was discharged until Monday next at ten o'clock a. m., at that time the list will be taken up again. All jurors and parties interested, are requested to be on hand.

Another Victim.

History repeats itself. In nothing is this so true as in the matter of confidence games. Every instance of this kind of deception is but a repetition of every other. If you have a file of daily papers preserved, and will refer to the back numbers, you will find in your old papers the particulars of the latest confidence game. Still, although the trick is so stale, and has been employed a thousand times and reported as often as employed, and read by all whom it may concern, every simpleton needs, it seems, to be convinced, in his own experience, that rogues are rascals. Another victim bewailed his hard fortune in our city yesterday.

A man named Benjamin Kilgore arrived here yesterday afternoon on the train from Philadelphia. He was from the eastern portion of Maine, and was traveling to Palestine, Ohio, eleven miles from Cincinnati. A pious youth occupied the seat with him in the car and talked religion to him the whole distance. When they left the train at the Union Depot, the pious youth suggested that they go to the Allegheny Depot to get dinner, as there was nothing fit to eat at the Union Depot.

They started and reached the corner of Smithfield and Liberty streets. There they met a business man who was delighted to see the pious youth, and discussed some intricate business questions with him. At length business man informed pious youth that his goods had been shipped for Cincinnati, and would reach that city almost as soon as the youth himself. The youth said he supposed he might as well pay business man for the goods then as any time, and took from his pocket a check for $1,000. Business man could not possibly change that amount. Mr. Kilgore was appealed to, and though he could not raise so large an amount, managed to find in his pocket-book $65, and in another pocket $2 more. Pious youth borrowed the $67 of him until the check could be cashed, and handed the amount over to business man, who walked away. Mr. Kilgore and his companion came up to the Custom House, and the gentleman from Maine was told that if he would wait outside a moment the holder of the check would get the money on the paper and come out and refund. Mr. K. waited for a matter of two hours, when he began to smell a rat and see it floating in the air. To nip it in the bud, he went to the Mayor's office, but could give no clue to the identity of his religious companion sufficient to give any hopes of his capture. The unfortunate man had just seventy-five cents left after his bad investment. Fortunately, his ticket was paid for, and he, taking advantage of this fact, left last evening, steering clear of all solemn looking young men.

Chapel have commenced the erection of a substantial brick church on their lot, situated on the corner of Boyle and Hemlock streets. The corner stone will be laid by Mount Morris and St Cyprian Lodges, No. 13, A. Y. Turning Worship to Account.

On Saturday morning we related the bold and successful effort of an Allegheny artist, to get possession of the hall carpet of Mrs. Stoddard's Millinery establishment on Federal street. The way that scoundrel worked his game was very good, but it did not come up to the consummate impudence and sacrilegious enterprise of another Allegheny thief. The latter seemed inspired by a noble emulation of the deeds of his compeer, determined to surpass the achievements of the latter. Accordingly he went on the evening of the closing day of the M. P. General Conference, to the Methodist Protestant Church on Ohio street, East Common, Allegheny, and while the services were in progress inside the church, quietly removed the entire matting that covered the floor of the vestibule, and coolly marched away with it. The police made vigorous search, but have so far failed of any success in the attempt to identify the thief. Allegheny still commands our admiration in mat-ters of that kind.

Larceny.

Yesterday morning William Grier appeared before Mayor McCarthy and made oath against Robert Scott, charging him with the larceny of one overcoat, valued at $26, one pair of pants, valued at $5, and one pair of drawers, valued at $1. Grier boards at a boarding house on Ferry street. On Friday night Scott came to his house and remained over night. On Saturday morning he left, and shortly after Grier discovered that his overcoat was missing from his room, and that his valise had been opened and the pants and drawers abstracted. Yesterday a boy who knew both parties, informed Grier that Scott had been to the Farmer's Inn, corner of Fourth and Ferry streets, and left the overcoat. Grier found it there as stated, and this morning Officers Scott, Cupples and Busha arrested Scott at the toll house on the Monongahela bridge, with a black carpet bag in his possession, in which was a fine shirt, marked "Wm. Anderson." Three other overcoats were also found on him.

Discharged.

Charles Roberts, the young man who has been lying in jail, charged with having forged a check for a considerable amount on one of the Allegheny city banks, was released from prison on Sunday morning. Two terms of Court has elapsed without the case having been brought to trial, in consequence of the absence of a material witness, and finally, on the motion of the District Attorney, a nolle pros. was entered, on payment of costs. Roberts being unable to liquidate the costs, some seventy-five dollars, was obliged to remain in prison for thirty days longer. This length of time having expired, he was discharged as stated.

Louis Lessler, committed for trial July 15th, 1865, on a charge of false pretense; tried November 22d, 1865, convicted and sentenced to one year's imprisonment, was also released on Saturday, his term having expired.

The Exhibition this Evening.—Our readers will bear in mind that our admirable gymnastic association are to repeat, this evening, at their hall, the splendid entertainment given by them last week. A number of choice and marvellous additions to the first programme have been made. The selection to-night comprises among other startling feats, the Avolante Altoir, Duplex Trapeze, Suertes De Salon, Finnambulism, Tour de Force, Battu Leaping, &c. We hope the gymnasts may be greeted with a full attendance, for their performances are eminently worthy of the most ample patronage.

Birmingham Literary Society.—The above is the name of a society formed by the young men of Birmingham and South Pittsburgh, on Saturday afternoon, the 24th inst. After the organization, the following officers were elected: President—Prof. A. Burt; Secretary—John H. McMahon; Assistant Secretary Milton D. Hays; Treasurer—Jas. McDonald. The society meets every Saturday at 7 o'clock, P. M., in Bedford Hall, Birmingham. A society of this kind has long been needed on the south side of the river, and we predict for it a successful career.

Revenue Swindle.

United States Commissioner K. Davis, of the Twentieth district, Pa., recently issued a warrant for the arrest of Henry and G. B. Hinkley, of Titusville, Pa., for frauds upon the revenue, on complaint of James M. Taylor, United States Inspector for the Twentieth district, Pa. The parties were accused, first, of running the Parker Oil Refinery without a United States license; second, of not keeping books as required by law; third, of removing a large quantity of oil without paying tax or giving bonds; fourth, of using a fraudulent brand. Commissioner Davis held an examination, and the parties were bound over to appear for trial at the United States Court to be held at Pittsburgh.

The manner of the alleged discovery of these frauds, was somewhat singular. Mr. Taylor, the Inspector for the Titusville district, is a phonographer, and in his inspection brand, uses a monogram composed of Phonographic characters representing his name and address. He was also employed as a newspaper oil reporter. One day when making up his market report, he found a lot of barrels, to all appearances, regularly branded with his private stamp. But he detected that the phonographic characters were not correct—as he judged only a badly bungled imitation. This aroused his suspicion; he reported the matter to the Collector, and then set himself to the task of unraveling the mystery, which ended in the unearthing of the alleged extensive fraud, as related above.

Slaying of Turkeys.

From reports received from the country districts we learn that the slaying of turkeys to grace our thanksgiving tables has already commenced in right good earnest, and will continue up till Wednesday night. The poor bird, which some style Gallus Numidicus, will fall under the knife in order that we may properly thank Providence for the many blessings bestowed upon us during the past year. The community at large have reasons to be thankful that they are not turkeys, and have better reasons for gratitude since they can purchase goods at T. A. McClelland's cheap auction bazaar, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street, at prices which were deemed marvellously cheap six or seven years ago. The stock is daily augmented by fresh goods received from New York auction houses and eastern Sheriffs' sales, and are equal to any offered in the market. The stock embraces boots, shoes and gaiters; hats, caps and head coverings; carpets, rugs and household goods of every description; furs of every quality and kind; dress goods in variety; cloths, cassimeres and vestings, shawls, coats, vests, pants and hundreds of articles which our space forbids mentioning. For any thing you want at prices which will astonish you. Call at McClelland's. Every body knows this extensive establishment and can direct you to it. It is under Masonic Hall, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street.

Another Burglary in Allegheny.

Allegheny is certainly becoming the leader of Pittsburgh in the way of thieving, burglaries, &c., and the thieves over there seem of the most thrifty and frugal sort, keeping a keen look out ahead for the prospective rainy day. They appreciate the fact that winter and hard times are close at hand, and with the wisdom of worldly philosophers they are taking time by the forelock and making lively preparations for the coming time. We have not heard yet that any of them have carried away a ton of coal, or a cooking range, or a gas meter, but almost everything else the Allegheny thieves have stolen. Yesterday morning were ported the committal of one Allen for burglariously obtaining clothing and provisions. Another fellow, on Sunday night or yesterday morning, entered through a back window the residence of Dr. Mabon, on Leacock street, between Federal and Sandusky streets, Fourth ward, Allegheny, and succeeded in stealing a quantity of flour, tea, coffee, and other provisions. A dark blue overcoat, one or two dresses, and several other articles. There were probably two of the operators, as the plunder had all to be lifted over a high fence. No clue has yet been obtained to the identity of the thieves.

Kicked Out and Locked Up.

At about eight o'clock last evening, an old vagabond cripple, named Thomas McLaughlin well known to the police of the city, became drunk and disorderly in a saloon on the corner of McGee street and Pennsylvania avenue, and was unceremoniously kicked out. He immediately set up a terrible hallabaloo and soon had the loose population of the neighberhood about him. An officer undertook to arrest him and got him a little way toward the lock up, when the considerate treatment which had been accorded to him in consideration of his lameness, misled him into the belief that he could snub the officer and have things his own way. Accordingly he layed flat down and commenced howling. Officers Logan, Gordon and Owens, of the Independent Police, took him up, and by sheer force, carried him to the lock up, he, meanwhile shrieking murder and groaning in a manner which drew after him an excited crowd of several scores of individuals who followed him to the watchhouse door. Once inside his cell the old man quieted down and went to sleep.

Larceny at Sweitzer Hall.

On Saturday night two boys who have no names, but claimed to be railroad employees, came to St. Sweitzer Hall, on Penn street, in the Fifth ward, and secured lodging for the night. On Sunday morning one of the boarders at the house, in passing another boarder's room, saw the two boys in the apartment, ransacking things. The boarder demanded of them what they were doing there and they replied that they were looking for writing paper. They left the room and went out of the house, after which they were seen no more. Shortly after they left the occupant of the room went in and found that a valuable watch and chain, worth $120, had been taken. The boys have not been seen or heard of since the theft, and no trace of them is attainable. Both of them seemed under seventeen years of age.

Good Times Changed to Bad.

On Saturday evening, a good old fashioned corn husking came off at the farm of a gentleman in Ross township. The boys and girls of the neighborhood were on hand and a good time was being enjoyed in the fullest sense of the word. Red ears were found, and the forfeit paid, and everything was eminently lovely. After a while, however, the good time changed to a time not so good. A young gentleman, nephew of the host, had been imbibing a little too much, and the excess had its effect. He became quarrelsome and touchy. At last he got into open war with several of the young men, and aggravated matters to such an extent that the ladies of the party retired precipitately in great disgust, and the husking that had progressed so pleasantly broke up in a row.

Inquest.

The jury empannelled by Coroner Clawson to investigate the causes of the death of Samuel Shirley, met at the Duquesne engine house, last evening, to conclude their labors. The facts adduced in the testimony were substantially the same as we have reported them. One point of the evidence was to the effect that when the cars were passing along the street, by the mouth of Fifth, the hose carriages and engines could not possibly pass the spot without running over the over the obstruction by the hay-scales. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death, and recommended that the obstruction which caused the accident be removed by the proper authorities.

The Homœopathic Festival—Great Display—Large Attendance.

Last evening City Hall was filled with the elite of the two cities, in attendance on the festival given there for the benefit of the Homœopathic Hospital.

The Hall is dressed with evergreens, the tables are ranged along the sides and at the back end of the room—highly decorated, and the floral temple occupies the middle of the room.

To-day there will be lunch from 12 M. to 3 o'clock, as well as an entertainment in the evening. We bespeak a much greater attendance for this evening than there was last night.

Slight Fire.—The alarm of fire from box No. 81, last evening, at about half past seven o'clock, was occasioned by the partial burning of two old houses on the corner of Seventh and Grant streets. The houses are on the ground which is being prepared by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for the erection of their new freight depot, and were about to be torn down. The damage done amounted to very little, the fire being confined to the roofs. The origin of the fire is unknown. One statement is to the effect that a family occupied one of the houses until a day or two ago, and the accidental burning resulted from the fire they used. Nothing definite seems known of the matter.

TO YEARLY ADVERTISERS.

Owing to the large amount of advertising patronage with which we are favored, and for which we are duly thankful, and the increase of our circulation, altogether beyond our present means to supply as promptly as we ought, we find it generally inconvenient, and sometimes quite impossible, to insert changes for yearly advertisers, unless left at our counting-room before seven o'clock in the evening.

A PERIOD OF UNCERTAINTY.

During the war two causes specially contributed to quicken speculation; an extraordinary demand for many articles, the growth or manufacture of the country, and the increase of paper money. No matter what a man traded in, or what the market price of the particular commodity was at the time of purchase, he was certain to sell it at a considerable advance, the demand and the inflation steadily increasing. So far as this condition of affairs stimulated actual production, it added to the aggregate of the national wealth. But so far as it only facilitated the exchange of products, it simply redistributed wealth previously existing. What successful sellers gained the consumers certainly lost.

At length a point was reached at which the special demand for certain productions essential to the efficient maintenance and use of armies and navies, suddenly ceased. At or near this point, too, the currency reached its highest expansion. As a natural consequence, traffic has become perilous. If a change happens either way, it is most likely to manifest itself in a shrinking of values, and the necessity of selling upon a falling market. However satisfactory this may be to purchasers, it is most damaging to sellers. Such a redistribution of wealth is not at all to their liking. This is what creates the uncertainty and doubtfulness that rests at present upon most departments of industry, and especially upon such as require much space between the commencement and the finishing of the processes of production.

Nor are individual interests only involved in this matter. In proportion as production falls off and profits arising from sales diminish, the resources and stability of the National Treasury are put at hazard. The public indebtedness is a determinate sum. The interest on it may be substantially a fixed amount. But there is a vast difference between maintaining the national credit during a period of inflation and fortifying it when a contraction becomes inevitable. And this leads to the suggestion of some measures which ought to occupy the attention of Congress at the earliest possible period in the coming session.

There ought to be a searching revision of international taxation, so as to grant all practical relief to the industry of the country; and such a revision of the impost duties as will secure the largest amount of revenue from that source compatible with the just and ample protection of our manufactures. A scheme of rigid retrenchment ought to be instituted, which will stop all possible leaks, by cutting off sinecures, exacting a full day's work for a full day's pay, and reducing compensation to the rates paid for corresponding services in private or corporate employments. Provision ought, moreover, to be made for consolidating the public indebtedness, and for the diminution of the rate of interest to at least five per centum. When the existing loans were made the government was pretty much at the mercy of capitalists. Whatever concessions they required, the Treasury had to grant. Hence, all the conditions of the various loans were clearly in the interest of the lenders and none in the interest of the government. It would be unmanly now to cant and complain that Shylock demanded his pound of flesh when the opportunity was before him, and none could hinder. But the Shylocks are not masters of the situation now. The opportunity of the government has come, and the people demand that it be used to the fullest extent. Such a reduction of the rate of interest as is now perfectly practicable would of itself be a decided relief. The prompt consummation of these measures would do much to relieve the existing uncertainty that restrains business activity.

PRISONS AND PRISON DISCIPLINE.

The startling increase of crimes in this Commonwealth during the last few years; the inadequacy of the existing penal institutions properly to hold the increasing number of criminals; and the insufficiency of the systems of discipline pursued to induce reformation in the persons subjected to them; are problems demanding serious consideration. Upon each of these heads it is our intention to submit some reflections, though not in a single article.

1. As to the Increase of Crimes. The army of criminals gets its recruits mainly from three sections or classes; from those who are unfortunately organized, that is, from those who have certain propensities naturally in excess; from those who in early life have been left, through various causes, without wholesome training; and from those who, under stress of peculiar temptations, have fallen, been detected, lost their self respect, and become reckless of consequences. These distinctions were formerly made small account of, if recognized at all, in dealing punitively with offenders. Even now much less weight is given to them by the makers and executors of law than their intrinsic importance would seem to suggest. It may be farther remarked that, the feelings of all virtuous men towards offenses and the perpetrators of them are largely modified by the conceptions they respectively entertain of the superinducing causes. If a man conceives that crimes are the progeny of a nature bad in itself, he will be apt to conclude, with CARLYLE, that the best thing to be done with a convicted felon is savagely to extirpate him; that the halter or the ax affords a discipline just towards the culprits and benevolent towards society. If he conceives that neglect on the part of parents, or guardians, has occasioned the adoption of vicious courses, he will, like HOWARD, feel a deep sense of commiseration, and that a necessity is laid on him, in common with others, to repair, as far as practicable, the consequences of defective training. If he conceives that the offender, against the current of his life, has been overmastered by a strong temptation, and betrayed into a fault, he will be prone, like JESUS, to say, "neither do I condemn thee; go thy way, and sin no more."

Many causes have conspired to augment the criminal lists. Among these may be specified a greatened influx of dangerous classes from Europe. In making this specification we not do intend to reflect on respectable people no matter where they were born, or under what systems reared; but the reports of prisons throughout the whole country show that certain ranks of particular nationalities furnish numbers of criminals out of all proportion to their respective contributions to the aggregate population. Increasing wealth and luxury are prolific sources of demoralization. As the republic becomes opulent; as cities multiply and enlarge; as princely fortunes are wrought out, and as indulgence waits on the possessors and heirs of them; as the extravagance of the cities extends to the towns and villages, it begets discontent with the old frugality, and self-denial, and industry; excites wild and vague hopes and expectations, unbinds useful restraints and silences wholesome admonitions. From this whirl of thoughts and longings comes adventure, speculations, and all perilous and damaging schemes for sudden acquisition and mischievous license.

Superadded to these and the like incentives to criminality, must be considered the war for the suppression of the rebellion. The maxim that "war is barbarism" receives illustration in the appalling increase of the criminal classes engendered by it. Offences of violence have multiplied beyond precedent, and just in proportion as the great war loosened the bonds of restraint and encouraged brutality. Orphans have greatly multiplied. Perhaps it would not be reasoning too nicely to assume that of the children begotten during the war a considerable additional per centage will ultimately be found to have received, in conception, an abnormal tinge, unfavorable to healthy moral development. The great passions of each generation ordinarily give in this way an impression to the generation following, which is an inheritance often greatly to be deprecated. Of course, this principle has its compensations. When a great cause is imperiled; when some vital truth is to be vindicated; when some momentous right is to be asserted and defended; the intellectual grandeur and the moral elevation of the struggle are generically imparted to tens of thousands, and thus the men and women of the next age are lifted into a serener atmosphere, infused with a loftier enthusiasm, and animated by a sublimer courage.

All this was strikingly exemplified in France during the Revolution of 1789 to 1793. The abuses of many ages were to be extirpated. A dynasty was brought to judgment not so much for its own sins, as for the sins of its predecessors. When a nation, long patient, is at length forced beyond endurance, and rises up in wrath to execute vengeance and work deliverance for itself, malignant passions mingle with the angelic, great brutalities shock as well as boundless magnanimities charm. But the predestined work goes on. In the next age dark traces of evil will exist side by side with bright traces of good; but the good traces are incomparably most numerous and lasting.

When France entered upon her great struggle she was oppressed with the Feudalism of the Middle Ages. Every hinge of the political machinery was rusted by the damps of antiquity. When she emerged from the struggle, Feudalism had vanished, never to re-appear. The ancient Civilization, with all its encumbrances, had given place to the modern, with all its ameliorations. But the conflict left wounds to be mollified with ointment, and ugly scars which it will take centuries to outgrow. The France of to-day, by virtue of the fiery ordeal, is grander and better than the France of the olden time, though many of the germs of the Revolution have not yet fruited; nay, have not yet blossomed into beauty. While the good produced augments from age to age, the evil incurred becomes dim and must ultimately disappear altogether.

This is substantially our condition now.

Provost Marshal General's Report.

The report of this officer, which has just appeared is full of interesting statistics, and it is probable that a more minute examination of the statistics of the army than has yet been made, would reveal the fact that desertion is a crime of foreign, rather than of native birth, and that but a small proportion of the men who forsook their colors were Americans. It is a notorious circumstance that the great mass of the professional bounty jumpers were Europeans. In general, the manufacturing States, as, for instance, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York and New Jersey, rank high in the column of desertion; and this result is to be attributed not only to the fact that such States are dotted with towns and cities crowded with foreigners. The respectable and industrious part of this population did, indeed, produce a mass of faithful troops; but with these were mixed a vast number of adventurers, unworthy of any country, who had no affection for the Republic, and who enlisted for money.

In general, these States which gave the highest local bounties are marked by the largest proportion of deserters. The bounty was meant to be an inducement to enlistment; it became, in fact, an inducement to desert on and fradulent re-enlistment.

It is a singular and, at first sight, a puzzling fact that two extreme Western States, Kansas and California, are distinguished respectively by the high ratios in desertion of 117.54 and 101.86. But it must be remembered that more than half the male population of Kansas entered the service, and that, consequently, its contingent contained an unusually large percentage of men whose presence was necessary to the subsistence and protection of their families. In further explanation of this fact something may be attributed to a lax state of discipline natural in border regiments, serving for the most part in a somewhat irregular defense of their own frontiers. As for California, it is to be observed that a portion of the contingent of that State consisted of men levied in the large cities of the East, or of adventurers from all quarters of the globe collected in the cosmopolitan thoroughfares of San Francisco.

The most fruitful source of casualties in the regular army is desertion; it reaches the high ratio of 244.25 per thousand, while in the volunteers it is but 62.51. The inference is irresistible that the men who enlisted in the regular service were inferior in character to the troops furnished by the States; and it will probably be found, on the examition, that they were more commonly levied in the large cities, and embraced a far larger proportion of foreigners. The regular service did not secure that noble class of native born soldiers which local pride and State patriotism poured into the volunteer organizations.

The casualties in the entire military force of the nation during the war of the rebellion, as shown by the official muster rolls and monthly returns, have been compiled, showing among other items, 5,221 commissioned officers and 90,869 enlisted men killed in action, or died of wounds while in service; 2,321 commissioned officers and 182,329 enlisted men who died from disease or accident; making an aggregate of 280,739 officers and men of the army who lost their lives in service.

From carefully prepared tables it appears that the proportion per thousand which each loyal State or group of States furnished to the mortality list was as follows: Maine, 44.37; New Hampshire, 44.27; Vermont, 58.22; Massachusetts, 47.76; Rhode Island, 22.34; Connecticut, 35.48; New York, 35.68; New Jersey, 25.21; Pennsylvania, 31.75; Delaware, 25.63; Maryland, 17.04; District of Columbia, 3.62; Ohio, 36.55; Indiana, 30.01; Illinois, 34.80, Michigan, 44.82; Wisconsin, 42.01; Minnesota, 25.33; Iowa, 45.44; Kansas, 62.01; California, 12.33; West Virginia, 37.90; Kentucky, 25.10; Missouri, 21.74.

The general average for the groups of States was as follows: New England States, 44.76; Middle States, 31.79; loyal States (general ratio), 35.10; Border States, 25.32; Western States, 36.81.

The report says:

As an explanation of the superior battle mortality of the extreme northern section of the country, I suggest the fact that, this region being far removed from the seat of war, it was not necessary for any portion of the troops raised in it to remain at home on garrison duty, and they, therefore, were kept almost constantly at the front. Hence, also, at least in part, the high rate of this section under the other heads of casualty resulting in an especial manner from field service, such as deaths by disease and discharges for disability.

A remarkable exception of the rule above noted is Kansas, which was a frontier State during nearly the whole contest, and which, nevertheless, shows the highest battle mortality of the table. But the population of Kansas is a peculiarly pugnacious one, rendered such by its origin and history. The same singularly national disposition which induced above half the able-bodied men of the State to enter the army without bounty may be supposed to have increased their exposure to the casualties of battle after they were in the service.

Among the colored troops the deaths by disease were largely disproportioned to those by the casualty of war. The report says:

"The ratio is not less than 141.39 per thousand, while the highest ratio on the volunteer list is 114.02 (Iowa), and the general volunteer ratio is 59.22. This disparity is the more remarkable because the colored troops were not so severe exposed during the war to the hardships of field service proper, as is evident from the fact that their battle mortality is but 16.11 per thousand, while that of the volunteers is 35.10. The ratio of deaths by disease among the colored troops compares still more unfavorable with that of the regulars, which is but 42.27 per thousand. It seems to indicate that the negro, in the condition in which the war found him, was less able than the white to endure the exposure and annoyances of military service. It may be assumed that where one man dies of disease, at least five others are seriously sick, so that a large proportion of the colored troops must have been constantly upon the sick list.

THE SEASON OF STORMS.—The blasts of autumn and the chill storms of early winter are apt to make sad inroads upon the constitutions of the feeble. In old times at the commencement of every season it was the fashion to take a strong cathartic as a safeguard against a change of temperature. It was a worse than senseless practice. The people of our day understand the matter better. Instead of depleting the system they reinforce it. In the method they adopt they exhibit a wise discrimination. Instead of resorting to the vitiated stimulants of commerce, or any of the compounds derived from them, they put their faith in the only absolutely pure invigorant procurable in the market—HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Their faith is well founded. Never has any tonic medicine been prepared with such scrupulous precision and conscientious care. It is a vegetable compound of which every ingredient is sound, wholesome and MEDICINAL in the true sense of the word. Now we have three prominent national complaints. One-half of the adult population of the United States suffer more or less, either from diseases of the stomach, derangements of the liver, or affections of the kidneys. In no other land under Heaven are these maladies so general as in this country, and HOSTETTER'S BITTERS is a specific for them all unless organic in their origin, and, therefore, beyond cure. And let those who are fortunate enough to be exempt from them at present understand one great fact, viz: That an occasional use of this vitalizing tonic will as certainly prevent them as the sun will prevent the earth from freezing where his genial beams descend. —Communicated.

AGENTS WANTED

FOR THE MOST POPULAR

AND BEST SELLING SUBSCRIPTION BOOKS PUBLISHED.

We are the most extensive publishers in the United States, (having six houses,) and therefore can afford to sell books cheaper and pay agents a more liberal commission than any other company.

Old agents, and all others, who want the best paying agencies, will please send for circulars and see our terms, and compare them and the character of our works with those of other publishers. Address

(ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS ON FIRST PAGE.)

A Letter from Mrs. Jane G. Swisshelm.

EDITORS OF THE GAZETTE:—Some time ago your Local, under the head of "A Singular Lady," noticed an instance of a lady thanking a gentleman for resigning to her his seat in a street car. The impression left, by the article, was that politeness is a rare virtue among Pittsburgh women; and I jumped to the conclusion that "the men folk," with that acquisitiveness characteristic of the sex, had monopolized all the good breeding; must therefore, have a very large supply on hand. This appeared the more probable since it is not uncommon to meet successful politicians whose whole stock in trade consists of a little politeness; ruling classes are ever jealous of any encroachment of their political power. A little observation brings the conviction that any deficiency on the part of the ladies is not to be referred to any such cause; for the week after your Local's article appeared, the Johnstown accommodation train stopped at Lawrenceville when an aged woman, thinly but decently clad, came in at the forward door of a car. Her arms were full of packages; she stood, with an air of unusual diffidence, balancing and leaning against the side of the car until within a few rods of East Liberty station. On the seat, nearest to her, sat one of the judges of one of our courts, looking hale and hearty, frosty and kindly; and beside him a gentleman on the downhill side of life, of more than average respectability of appearance. A stranger in distress would have confidently appealed to either; and I should think that either would be active in any work he believed to be one of Christian charity. Most of the other seats, in that end of the car, were occupied by school-boys, and vigorous young men, any of whom appeared as if a game of base ball, or a foot race, would have been a positive relief to him in disposing of superabundant vitality, yet the old woman stood and staggered and held on to her packages in full view of all, and no one seemed to think it strange.

The incident recalled one in a Washington City street car, in the summer of '64, when a woman, with two little children, all three a mass of wretchedness, got into an avenue car. The seats were all occupied, but she had scarce time to cast her appealing glance of weariness half way up the row, when a man in blue, with his left arm in a sling, and the gilt eagle on his shoulder, and his next neighbor, were on their feet. After getting her seated, helping the youngest child up to her knee, and the other to the seat at her side, he stood, holding by a strap, and regarding the group with an air of gentle, respectful deference which asked no equivalent in smiles and and "thank you sirs." It was one of the most beautiful tributes from strength and manhood to weakness and womanhood, that it has been my good fortune to witness, such an one as could only be paid by a brave man, and a gentleman, such an one as has been seldom seen except in the "armies of the republic," and among the backwoodsmen of the extreme Northwest, who, as a class, are the most thorough gentlemen on the continent.

Public teachers err in talking of politeness as a matter of taste, like the color of a ribbons. It is a fundamental Christian duty, taught in the New Testament, in a much more forcible and comprehensive manner, than by Chesterfield, or any similar writer. The precepts which teach us to "love one another, in honor preferring one another," are the foundations of all true politeness. The boy who afflicts himself, to occupy a seat, while gray hairs stands, has not been properly exercised in "The Assembly's Shorter Catechism," and the strong man who neglects to offer a seat to a woman, disregards a law of nature, and that precept which requires all to bear each other's burdens. Nothing can change that law which makes woman the weaker and dependant party; and until oaks refuse to bear the mistletoe, man must violate nature's statutes in refusing such aid as he can readily grant, to any woman he may meet. If she neglect a suitable acknowledgment she is seriously in fault, but even this neglect does not and cannot absolve him from the Christian duty of politeness.

On our national horizon a light breaks, in the plan of gathering a considerable force of Union soldiers in Washington to welcome Congress. I made the suggestion in my published correspondence, early in August; and no other expression of the will of the people can deter the conspirators from taking forcible possession of the Government. Congress must hold military possession of the Capital during the remainder of Mr. Johnson's term, or the loyal people retake it, at a cost of life and treasure greater than that at which they took Richmond. Johnson's interview with Chief Justice Chase and all the pretense of bowing to the behests of the people, are so many doublings of the serpent in his torturous windings southward. The loyal men are not turned out of office, in Washington, because the conspirators want them as hostages, to be used as they proposed to use our prisoners in the siege of Charleston. The plan is to get as many unarmed loyal men as possible into Washington and spring the trap. Ten regiments of such men as took the heights of Fredricksburg, or the swamps of Vicksburg, can hold Washington against the two hundred thousand organized assassins who wait to obey the watchword of their leader in the White House. Let the people welcome their Congress to their Capital by a strong military force, under command of Butler, and keep it there until Johnson is removed by impeachment. A few millions of a State tax will save incalculable waste of life and treasure, in nipping the great treason in the bud. Let no man flatter himself that Johnson has changed his purpose. He belongs to the Confederacy, body and soul, and dare do anything without the consent of his accomplice in Fortress Monroe. These men respect nothing but power, will be restrained by nothing but bayonets; and every dictate of justice and humanity calls upon us to make a second war impossible, by spiking their guns before they can open fire.

JANE G. SWISSHELM.

Novel Entertainment—A Defaulting Professor.

A few days since the inhabitants of a town on the Pennsylvania Railroad, not a great distance from Altoona, were startled out of their usual stolidity by the announcement that on the following night a learned gentleman would give a grand exhibition in the public hall, in which he would show the complete control he exercised over the feline and canine family by making a number of cats and dogs do everything he desired of them. Fearing that the populace would believe that he had some of the animals already trained, and that his influence was only acquired by long association and a strict course of training, he requested in a postscript at the foot of the brilliant posters, that occupied conspicuous positions on every stable, fence and bar-room in the "burgh," that a number of persons in the audience would bring their "household pets" with them, if they desired them to have a perfect scholastic training given them in a few moments. Weeks had elapsed since the last white tent had graced the village green, and the bespangled mountebanks had followed in a glittering train the unwieldy elephant and stuffed monarch of the jungle from the scene of their triumph, and those who had gaped at them in open-mouthed wonder, yearned for the coming of some new sensation. The arrival of the feline-canine professor was hailed with joy. Here was novelty and instruction so nearly blended, so fused in one, that youth and age, the erudite and the unlettered rustic might enjoy the feast equally. It is needless to tell of the preparations made to attend the show—of the hours spent before the glass by beaux and belles in arranging toilets fitting for the occasion. Everybody was on the qui vive, and long ere the hour announced for the opening of the doors, the street in front of the hall was crowded by a pushing, shoving, scurrying mass of men, women, dogs, cats and children.

The scene was a novel one indeed. Here stood a great wise-looking shaggy coated mastiff along side of a burly master who kept him close by his side by means of a long hempen cord tied around his neck—a quiet but expectant candidate for educational honors. The nearest neighbor of the burly individual, was a quiet demure looking girl of sixteen or thereabouts, from under the folds of whose shawl could be seen descending, something that looked like a hairy curtain tassel, but really was the caudie appendage of a half smothered "Fido" which its owner dare not even wag, least like Tam O'Shanters mare" a diel in the shape of a sharp pointed, lynx eyed black and tan terrier, who sat watching it interestedly should bite it off. In the centre of the assemblage could be seen above the heads of the people, the prominent ears of quite a number of "Toms" and "Pusses" who had to be thus held aloft, to keep them from being devoured by the swarm of canines on the ground. They seemed not to fully appreciate their exalted positions, as they resorted to the mews and gave such doleful ditties as might have melted the breast of their dogmatical haters below. Finally, the doors were thrown open, and then what a rush ensued, what barking, what mewing, what cries from ladies who, strange to state, admired not squeezing, what yells from men whose dogs were making vain plunges to extricate themselves from the turmoil, and what entanglement of crinoline, making strange revelations that could not be described even by the most graphic pen. "Currency" floated like a stream of emerald into the coffers of the sleek, suave treasurer, until the little tin box was crammed with the crispy treasure, and the capacious auditorium was crowded by a "large and respectable" auditory. All eyes were bent steadfastly on the green baize curtain, expecting each moment to see it rolled up and the wonderful professor make his appear. Seconds lengthened into minutes and minutes into hours, and yet that dark curtain stirred not, hanging like a pall between the present and the mysterious future. The canine element dozed on the floor, their heads laying on their paws. The feline portion of the auditors closed their great angular eyes, and feared no more their ancient enemies as they nestled in the laps of their possessors. The conversation in the assemblage waned as their impatience for the exhibition increased, until at length the clock in a neighboring spire struck nine. This aroused an inquisitive gentleman near the stage, who determined to learn the cause of the delay, sprang over the footlights and lifted the "rag." But lo, and behold! nothing but impenetrable darkness greeted his gaze, while the chirp, chirp, chirp, of the crickets, nestled among the flies and scenery, alone disturbed the uncomfortable silence of the place. A light dawned upon the vision of those who had given their twenty-five cent "promises." They had been sold. A rush to the ticket office revealed the fact that the suave treasurer and the equally bland door-keeper were non est. They had vamoused with the tin box, and the audience, now enraged beyond measure, realized for the first time that they were sold. The Professor had left town on the 8:40 train for this city, where he will, no doubt, give a similar entertainment—if he can.

Charles H. Rauch, an old citizen of Lititz, Lancaster county, commissioned a Justice of the Peace by Governor Snyder, in 1815, and who acted as such for forty years, died at his residence on Tuesday morning last. This is the only instance, we believe, on record, of a man holding a similar commission for so long a time.

EARLY TELEGRAMS.

FROM MEXICO,

Abdication of Maximilian—His Departure for Europe—The Withdrawal of French Troops—Preparations for Embarkation Suspended—The Capture of Oaxaco.

NEW YORK, November 26.—The World's New Orleans special says: Maximilian has taken the decisive step of abdication, the rupture between himself and the French Government being complete. He has left Mexico in the hands of Bazaine and Castalnau, the latter of whom is understood to have full authority from Napoleon to supercede the Marshal himself, if necessary.

The consternation of the Mexicans at finding the question of their future remitted absolutely to the negotiations between France and the United States is general, and confined to no party.

I have the best authority for stating that all the preparations for embarking the French troops have been summarily suspended.

The Herald's Mexico correspondent says: Desultory skirmishing is going on all around the line, without any decisive advantage accruing to either party. The new Tehauntepec Transit Company have agents in Chihuahua trying to obtain the grant now in possession of the company headed by Marshall O'Roberts, of this city, but it is believed that both companies are the same, merely changing colors to suit the political changes that are expected to follow the abdication of Maximilian.

A Herald's city of Mexico correspondent gives an account of the capture of Oaxaco by the Liberals under Gen. Diaz. The garrison of the city consisted of but about 1,600 men, who bravely defended it against three times their number. An attempt to reinforce the garrison was made with 600 Belgian and 400 native troops, but Diaz intercepted the relief party, and captured it. A second force from Tehuacon met a like fate about the 25th inst. In the meantime, some five hundred Austrians from Tehauntepec forced their way through Diaz's lines into the city, and thus reinforced the garrison, and kept up the fight for several weeks, repelling attacks nearly every day.

Diaz fought his way through the city and obtained possession of the Plaza, but for some days was unable to make any effect upon the forts of St. Domingo, and Elcarten until the 31st ult., when he forced the enemy to surrender. The number of prisoners is between 2,000 and 3,000, and the convention is signed on the part of the Imperialists, among others, by Baron Enrique Egiso, and Count Alberto De Karmen.

A large supply of military stores, arms, ammunition, and several batteries of artillery, were among the prizes captured. The Austrians fought well but finally surrendered to superior numbers. This victory insures the peace of the whole country south of Puebla, and gives the Liberals a large, well organized and admirably equipped force with which to operate in this valley and upon the Vera Cruz line. It also places Puebla in danger, and unless the French prove themselves to be more active than formerly, the communication with the coast will be cut off, and can be re-established only at a great cost of lives.

Scheme for the Prosecution of Claims—Bill Reorganizing the Treasury Department.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The Herald's Washington special says: A combination scheme for the prosecution of claims against the Government, entered into by claim agents and certain clerks in the Department, having charge of the settlement of claims for officers' back pay, has partially transpired here. It is charged that these clerks, who have access to the muster rolls of the army, select from the rolls the names of officers appearing thereon as entitled under a recent law to present claims for arrears of pay, and cause such mustered out officers to be notified of the facts, at the same time suggesting the name of a claim agent best qualified to prosecute the claim for them, thus throwing into the hands of claim agents a large amount of business. It is supposed that the clerks thus interested share the profits.

The Tribune's Washington special says, a carefully prepared bill, thoroughly reorganizing the Treasury Department, is now ready for presentation to Congress, on whose attention it will be urged early in the session. Its passage will be earnestly favored by Secretary McCulloch. The effect of its becoming a law will be to prevent the use of the Department for partizan ends, and will greatly increase its efficiency.

A bill has been prepared by a leading Congressman, providing that an officer on trial under impeachment shall be suspended from exercising the functions of his office during the trial, and whether anything is done toward impeaching the President or not, it is probably that action will be had upon this bill with a view to settling a disputed point of law.

Destructive Fire at Selma, Ala.

SELMA, ALA., Nov. 26.—A destructive occurred in this city last night. Every building on the north side of Water, between Washington and Broad streets were burned. All the buildings on the east side of Broad street, between Linton's alley and Water street, were burned except two, McRees & Johnson's store and the Messenger office, which are both badly damaged. The loss by this conflagration is estimated at over $100,000. The heaviest losers are Judson & Duncan, about $47,000, insured for $20,000; Messrs. Burnett, Martin & Swain, $120,000, insured for $80,000; McRees & Johnson, $50,000, insured for $25,000; Messrs. Bowen & Hooper, $12,000, insured for $5,000.

Whisky Seized.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Revenue Inspector, Fred. Cocheu, surprised a party landing a cargo of illicit spirits at the foot of North First Street, at an early hour yesterday morning. Those having charge of the lighter pushed off at his approach, abandoning forty-six barrels of spirits, which was promptly seized. The same officers seized twelve barrels of poteen the previous night, while it was being deposited in the distillery of Cuthbert & Cunningham, in First street. The packages in both cases were fraudulently branded or not branded at all.

Iowa Election.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The Tribune publishes the following as the official figures of the Iowa election for Secretary of State: Edward Wright, 91,227; S. G. Vonanda, (Democrat,) 55,915. Wright's majority, 35,412. As several hundred votes cast for E. D. Wright, though unquestionably intended for Edward Wright, were thrown out by the State canvassers, Wright's majority does not represent the full Republican majority on the State ticket. Stiles, the Republican candidate for Supreme Court Reporter, had a majority of 37,886.

The Meteoric Shower in England.

NEW YORK, November 26.—The London Telegraph, of November 14th, says of the meteoric display: Almost directly after one o'clock the sky was first occasionally, then frequently, and soon constantly, streaked with the trains of countless stars which shot across the heavens.

Stock and Real Estate Broker.

FOR SALE—400 Acres of Coal Land, lying immediately upon the Ohio River, 20 miles below Gallipolis, and 165 miles above Cincinnati. On the above tract is a four foot vein of Coal, which, for general purposes, is not surpassed. It is entirely different from the Southern Ohio Coal; contains but little sulphur, forges and cokes well, and for making steam cannot be excelled. The location being about midway from Pomeroy and Hanging Rock, must make it valuable for coaling boats. There is water front of ¾ of a mile, with a good landing at all stages of the river. A gangway has been run in the hill about 300 feet, track laid to river, together with the necessary fixtures for mining and delivering coal afloat. On said tract is first-class double Portable Circular Saw Mill together with a Portable Grist Mill, all in good running order, and plenty of the very best oak, ash and poplar timber. Would sell one-half interest if desired, to a party with experience and capital for working same.

Stock and Real Estate Broker,
oc19 No. 102 Fourth street.

FOR SALE—231 acres Coal, including 31 acres Surface, on the East side of the Ohio River, three miles above Wheeling, with right of way to river. The close proximity to a good market as Wheeling, together with the fact that the coal crops out high enough on the hill to be used profitably for rolling mill purposes, makes this a good investment.

NOTICE TO CONSUMERS OF WATER.—The repairs now in progress at the Water Works render it imperative that great economy should be observed in the use of water, the one engine now running being taxed to its utmost capacity. All unnecessary waste of water should be avoided, such as sprinkling streets, washing pavements, drenching clothes in tubs to an inordinate extent, &c. Unless there is proper attention paid to these requirements the city will not have sufficient water for fire culinary and other necessary purposes. A non-observance of this caution may deprive the offender of a supply of water, as well as entail a heavy fine.
It is hoped that in the course of three weeks or a month, at farthest, the Superintendent will be enabled to remove these restrictions.

PURE CALIFORNIA WINES.
GURNER & CO.,
No. 80 Cedar St., New York,

Offer for sale these valuable Wines, which are gaining public favor with astonishing rapidity, and whose unprecedented and unrivalled popularity is owing to their merit. They are to be fairly tested to give them the preference over all others. As a purifier of blood they excel all other Wines, and the numerous certificates which have voluntarily been tendered from the most eminent physicians, as well as gentlemen in every position in life, are proof conclusive that these Wines are useful in all cases for which they are recommended. They comprise all the varieties now grown in the State suitable for use.
WHITE, or HOCK WINE—Of a light straw color, very similar to the celebrated Tokay.
CLARET—A superior wine for table use.
ANGELICA—A rich and naturally sweet wine, much admired by the ladies, and valuable in the sick chamber, as a tonic. It is a fine dessert wine, and is well adapted for Communion purposes.
MUSCATEL—A light colored, highly aromatic wine. Very similar to the celebrated Tokay.
PORT—Deep red color, fine flavor, and is in many respects similar to the Port Wine of Lisbon.
GRAPE BRANDY—The pure juice of the grape.
This is one of the most valuable combinations of a useful and an agreeable beverage that has been offered to the public. Millions of bottles are sold throughout the North and the South, and it has proved a welcome addition to the invalid table, the hospital and the bachelor's sideboard.
Ladies who have lost strength and appetite, or suffer from nausea, vomiting and vertigo; gentlemen who have lost the desire for the morning breakfast or dinner whose stomachs are out of order from [illegible]; mothers weaning children and suffering from general debility; children of puny constitutions, all dyspeptic constitutional travelers who have occasion to change their water; and all who are troubled with acidity of the stomach, will find it one of the most salutary and valuable invigorators that can be taken.
It was used very extensively in 1865, with such general satisfaction that in offering it to the public now we give it a guarantee, the testimony of many connoisseurs that we have received, testifying to its very superior quality. All that we will pledge ourselves to furnish it PERFECTLY PURE AND UNADULTERATED.
It has been given to little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with most happy effect, one little girl in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill had been exhausted, was entirely restored by using the wine with a teaspoonful of Wine Bitters three times a day, gradually increased and she is now well.

VERY LATEST TELEGRAMS.

New York Central R. R.—Political Excitement in Ireland.

NEW YORK, November 26.—The Herald's Troy correspondent says: He learns upon highest authority, that it is the intention of the officers of the Central Railroad, to greatly improve the running facilities of the road, and improve the time tables as to speed materially lessening the time consumed between the leading points.

Heretofore when it was necessary to purchase a few acres for depots, &c., the company has been obliged to buy whole farms, in order to secure what they needed. This surplus land will be sold by the new management, and the proceeds devoted to the improvement of the track and road generally.

The Tribune's Dublin correspondence says: Political excitement has run to an alarming height in Ireland, every town and village has its full quota, and military and gun boats are scattered all over the Irish coast. These measures plainly bespeak the apprehension of a fulfillment of Mr Stephens promise. His last speech in America, has just been published in several Irish journals, and caused quite a political fever. The Irish people seems to have implicit confidence in his course, and sincerity and determination prevails among all classes. The conviction grows and speaks, that we are on the eve of startling and terrible events. The Fenian organization throughout the country, is in a high state of activity, its committees are terribly in earnest, and their plans are shaped for a fierce and bloody struggle.

From Boston—Highway Robberies—Meeting of Methodists.

BOSTON, Nov. 26.—Highway robberies and garroting cases are beginning to occur with an alarming frequency in this section. Last night Robert White, Jr., son of a respectable physician in this city, was attacked at about midnight, at the foot of Milk street, on Broad, by two men, who stunned and nearly killed him, and were only prevented from robbing him by being frightened away by pedestrians. Mr. White lies at the Hospital in a critical condition.

A garroting case occurred in Lynn on Saturday night. Mr. John F. Lelton, expressman between Boston and Lynn, was garroted and robbed while near his residence early in the evening. Detectives are on the lookout for the garroters whom they have reason to suppose came from New York recently.

A very large gathering of Methodists took place in Tremont Temple this evening, under the auspices of the New England Ladies' Centenary Association, in behalf of the New England Theological Institute which it is proposed to remove from Concord, New Hampshire, to this city, and amply endow. Speeches were made by Bishop Janes, of New York, Rev. J. M. Buckley, of Brooklyn, General Clinton B. Fiske, Rev. Dr. Warren and many others, and a good sum of money was realized. Lieutenant Governor Claflin, of Massachusetts, presided.

Serenade to Gov. Fenton—Republican Southern Association.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—A serenade was given to Gov. Fenton at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, this evening, which was a fine affair. Thousands of people were present to do honor to the Chief Executive of the State. The Seventh Regiment band furnished music. Ex-Mayor Opdyke introduced the Governor, who addressed them from the balcony. At the conclusion of the address he withdrew to the parlor, where he received the congratulations of his friends.

Judge Whiting, before whom ex-Street Commissioner Cornell was to have been examined, announces the withdrawal of the charges.

At a meeting of the Republican Southern Association to-day, it was resolved to meet in Washington on December 3d, and remain in session until Congress adjourns.

The Louisiana Fair.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 26.—The Louisiana State fair, though a first attempt, is a great success. To-day is the last day, but the interest is flagging. It has already quickened the disposition to use improved implements and machinery in the South. The Association have resolved to begin immediate preparation to hold another fair in November, 1867, and to erect permanent buildings for the use of the same. The Emery cotton gin takes the first premium; also the Hydraulic washing machine, Wheeler & Wilson sewing machine, and the Charter Oak cooking stove. The piano which took the first premium was manufactured at St. Louis, and the second in New Orleans, though those of New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore came in competition with them.

John Bright's Mission to Ireland.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The Times correspondent writing from London says: The mission of Mr. Bright to Ireland seems to have been a mistake and a failure. What the future consequence may be is not easy to predict, but there are signs that the Reform League lost more in England than he can possibly gain on the other side of the channel. The entire weekly press, and as far as I have seen, the daily also, with the single exception of his own personal organ, is opposed to the sole original measure he proposed for the relief of Ireland. Others have advocated, for many years, the removal of the church establishment and a law of tenant right. Mr. Bright proposed a scheme of land distribution which is opposed to all English ideas of government and political economy.

Military Celebration—Suit Against Gen. Butler.

NEW YORK, November 26.—The parade of the First Division, in commemoration of the evacuation of the city by the British troops, took place this afternoon.

It is stated that two suits have been commenced in the Supreme Court against General Butler, in which John H. Lester, a resident of the city, charges him with false imprisonment, damages being laid at $100,000, and with fraudulent conversion of property, damages at $50,000. Lester, it may be remembered, received a free pass from Secretary Stanton to bring his family from the south to the north during the late war, but Butler disregarded the permit and imprisoned him.

From North Carolina—The Governor's Message.

COLUMBIA, N. C., November 26.—The North Carolina Legislature met to-night. The Governor's message will be read to-morrow. It strongly opposes the Constitutional Amendment and recommends the passage of the homestead law and the adoption of means to discourage the emigration of negroes, and provides for the subsistence of indigent blacks.

He thinks the experiment of free labor will not be a failure. The grain crop is unusually short, and not enough of cotton has been raised in many of the districts to buy the needed bread. The debt of the State including the war debt, is five and a quarter millions.

Closing of the Woolen Mills.

BANGOR, ME., November 26.—The reasons given by the Woolen manufacturers for the closing up of their mills are that the wool costs more in its original state than the manufactured goods sell for in open market. Commissions also engross five per cent. Government duty on gross. Dye stuffs are heavily taxed, labor is high, and goods sold at the present time command only about two-thirds of their actual value. Although many of the factories have already stopped working, the glut of goods is still felt to be excessive, and other mills must inevitably follow the course of events and close up until the dawn of better times.

The Paris Exposition.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Mr. Beckwith, the Agent of the United States to the Paris Exposition, writes to Mr. Derby that exhibitors should be careful to mark the packages sent, with the number and class to which they belong. By so doing they can be forwarded as they are wanted without opening. Promptness in forwarding contributions to Mr. Derby at New York, is deemed very desirable.

Fire in Leavenworth.

ST. LOUIS, November 26.—A fire in Leavenworth Saturday night destroyed five buildings on Third street, occupied by Sponable & Co., dry goods; L. M. Rothfeld, clothier; Caspar Buchler, boots and shoes; S. P. Rothschild, Walter J. A. Morgan, S. B. Hamilton and Wilson Wetherill, grocers. Nearly all the stocks were saved. Loss fully covered by insurance in Eastern offices.

Steam Travel in Georgia.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Nov. 26.—In the Senate a bill has been introduced repealing the laws prohibiting aliens from owning real estate. The House has passed a bill granting aid to an air line railroad, and prohibiting railroads and steamboats running on Sunday.

The Lord Bank Robbery.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—A further examination of the case of Frank Heller Braker and Wm. R. Babcock in connection with the bonds stolen from Rufus L. Lord, was had to-day, and adjourned to Friday morning. Two hundred thousand dollars of the stolen securities have been recovered.

Fire and Loss of Life.

QUEBEC, C. E., November 26.—A fire at Point Levi destroyed property to the value of $4,000; no insurance. Four sailors of the ship Adriatic were thrown from the fore-top; one was killed, two were drowned, and the fourth severely injured.

The Nova Scotia passed Farther Point outwards yesterday.

Fenian Excitement in New York.

NEW YORK, November 26.—The recent news from Ireland has caused a great deal of excitement at the Headquarters of James Stephens, in this city. A large number of persons thronged the offices from an early hour in the morning. Arms and ammunition are said to be flowing in to Headquarters.

Discount on American Invoices.

MONTREAL, E. E., November 26.—The discount fixed by the Government on American invoices, at the Custom Houses, for currency, is 28 per cent. The Finance Minister imposed a duty of 15 per cent. on oysters (cans) from the States. Fresh fish and oysters in the shell are free as heretofore.

Presidential Appointments.

BALTIMORE, November 26.—William Wales, Esq., publisher of the Baltimore Commercial, has received the appointment of Surveyor of the port of Baltimore, vice Edington Fulton, one of the editors of the Baltimore American, who has been removed. Mr. Wales filed his bonds to-day.

Lynch Law in Kentucky—Suicide.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 26.—The Journal's special says: Three robbers were taken from the Lebanon jail on Saturday night by a mob, and hanged.

Moses S. Field, a lawyer of this city, committed suicide to-day.

The Steamers Bosphorus.

BOSTON, November 26—The non-arrival of the steamship Bosphorus, of Warren & Co.'s line, which left Liverpool on the 6th inst. for Boston, causes some anxiety to the friends of the passengers on board.

—Private advices received from New York announce the suspension of B. F. Carver, formerly of Chicago, in consequence of unfortunate operations in Northwest. The failure of Stuckle, Becker & Co., is announced—liabilities over $2,000,000. It is stated that for months past they had been operating for a rise in gold and fancy stocks, and, being unable to carry the load, were obliged to give way.

—The Boston Advertiser, of Wednesday, remarks: "We hear reports to-day of the sudden disappearance of two merchants doing business in different lines of trade, but understood to be mutually interested, who, it is stated, have left behind them paper to the amount of $150,000 to $175,000. The failure of a well known tanner, doing a large business in Chelsea, and the suspension of several small boot and shoe manufacturers in the vicinity of Boston, is also announced."

The money market presented no new features to-day. Business at the banks continues dull, and though the market is easy for all first-class paper, there is no superabundance of currency. The discount lines at some of the banks are fully up to the average, but with others, there is a decided falling off. This is particularly the case with those institutions which confine their business to the mercantile trade. There is no change in the rates of interest. Paper is closely scrutinized, and where advances are made, wide margins are invariably demanded. In the open market good signatures are negotiated at 1 per cent per month, and less acceptable names 1¼@1½ per cent.

"The tendency of the markets is to lower prices, and they are most happy who have resisted inducements to go beyond the absolute demands of business, and are not incumbered with heavy stocks. In regard to provisions, the Northwest must be regarded as the quarter where the most strenuous efforts are made to keep up the prices. Chicago, by virtue of her position, and her great trade, has peculiar advantages for the perpetration of this injustice, and there is reason to believe that the opportunities thus presented have not been neglected. But even in Chicago, the result of the contest between holders who are determined to keep an overplus and not to sell except high prices can be obtained, and those who might buy plentifully, but will buy scantily as long as they think unjust prices are demanded, is coming to a crisis. It has been found impossible to keep up some descriptions of provisions at the high rates demanded, and of necessity there has been a fall in prices, and a very severe one. When Mess Pork declines $5 a barrel, and Lard six cents a pound, and Hams in the same proportion, it is plain that prices have not been ruled by the laws of demand and supply, but that there has been an attempt to impose upon the community, which has been resisted. Pork has been held as high as $36 a barrel, just twice as much as it was selling for in the second year of the war, when a vast army was being fed mainly upon provision of that sort, and when consumers were greatly ahead of producers. Now that the country has returned to something like its normal condition, and the men who left the field and farm are once more engaged in rural occupations, there is no reason why the extraordinary prices demanded for some descriptions of articles should be sustained. It is not for the general advantage that combinations should be encouraged to take command of the interests of any branch of merchandise, and when they do exist the necessities of every honest business man requires that he should do his best to bring confusion to the persons who conspire against the welfare of society."

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
MONDAY, November 26, 1866.

This week does not open very auspiciously for business, if to-day can be taken as fair criterion. The weather was clear and pleasant and all that could possibly have been desired for out door operations, but owing to a feeling of doubt and uncertainty, and a want of confidence, dullness and stagnation continue to rule supreme. The wants of consumers and retailers appear to be easily satisfied at present, as they buy very sparingly; and as the impression seems to be general that values must still further depreciate, it is altogether likely that business will continue dull and depressed for some time to come.

GRAIN—There is no demand for Wheat, and we quote No. 1 Spring nominally at $2,60. New Corn is held at 55 to 60—old shelled is quoted at 95 to $1. Oats quiet and unchanged; sale of 300 bush, on track, at 51; also sales in store at 53 to 55. Barley is dull and unsettled; may be quoted nominally at $1,10 to 1,15, for prime to choice Spring. We can report a small sale of Rye at $1,25.

FLOUR—Is dull and neglected but without quotable change. Sales in store at $11 to $12½ for Spring Wheat; and $13 to $13½ for Winter Wheat. Rye Flour is selling at $8¾@8½; Cornmeal at $5; and Buckwheat at $4 to $4½ per cwt.

POTATOES—Prime Peach Blows are in demand, and we can report sales at 80 to 85c per bush, and $2,75 per bbl. New Jersey Sweets are selling at $5 to $5½.

APPLES—Continue to arrive very freely, and with a supply considerably in excess of the demand, prices are barely maintained. We quote in a regular way from store at $2 to $3 per bbl, as to quality.

BUTTER—Continues dull, and as the receipts are large, and the stock is accumulating, prices are tending downward. Prime Roll cannot fairly be quoted above 28 to 30, notwithstanding there is an occasional small sale of choice at 32 to 33.

EGGS—In good demand, and fresh packed sell readily at 33.

CHEESE—Is very dull, with a supply largely in excess of the demand, but prices are nominally unchanged.

DRIED FRUIT—We can report regular sales of Peaches at 18 for quarters; 20 for "mixed;" and 22 to 23 for prime halves. Apples very dull; may be quoted at 10 to 10½, for prime.

MILL FEED—Is very quiet. Middlings are selling all the way from $1,80 to $2—the latter figure for prime white. But little demand for Bran or Shipstuffs.

SORGHUM—Is dull, with a supply considerably in excess of the demand and prices are a shade lower—sales of prime reported to-day at 65.

HOMINY—Is in fair demand, and we can report regular sales at 3¼c per lb.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,

CRUDE—The market for Crude was more active to-day, at least, the sales were larger in the aggregate than for some days past, but prices show no improvement, notwithstanding there was a rather firmer feeling, and an improved demand. We continue to quote at 10 to 10½, in bulk and barrels returned, and 15 to 15½, bbls included, and for the present, these may be regarded as the extremes of the market. Sale of 200, 1200, 500 and 700, all at 10; 700 (Kanawha oil) at 10½; 550 (Franklin oil—35 gravity) at 10½; 210 at 15½, bbls included, and 30 bbls (heavy oil) at 19. We can also report a sale of three thousand barrels, to arrive, at [illegible]. This sale is exactly similar to that of last week—the purchaser furnishing the boats at Oil City, and the seller to fill and deliver the oil [illegible]—which, it is said, will make the price about [illegible] cents, taking everything into consideration.

REFINED—There was but little inquiry for bonded oil to-day, and while the market was quiet, and to some extent, neglected, prices have undergone no quotable change. Sale of 500 bbls, to be delivered at the option of the seller, within fifteen days, at 27½, free on board cars here—considered above the market. We quote at 32½ to 33 for November delivery in Philadelphia; 33½ to 34, for December, and 34 to 34½ for January and February. One thing probably, more than any other, that tends to keep the market from becoming entirely demoralized, is the fact that there is but comparatively little oil offering, and some of our refiners are talking about suspending operations for the winter.

ARRIVALS—The following arrivals were reported to-day:

W. P. Logan	1200	Baxter & Ellison	500
Fisher & Bro (3 dys)	10000	Gallagher & Son	800
Jas. Wilkins	1250	McCreight & Co.,	52
Total			13802

New York Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The Dry Goods market opens very quiet to-day, but very steady, considering the state of trade and business in other quarters. Aside from some outsiders who have have lost confidence in the market and are offering goods for the purpose of realizing, there is generally a good feeling on the part of holders of goods. Manufacturers are generally curtailing expenses and reducing their productions to meet the state of business and generally running upon goods of established reputation and desirableness.

New York Weekly Bank Statement.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26—The following is the weekly bank statement: Loans, $26,992,045; decrease, $5,417,975. Specie, $13,2,895; decrease, $308,269. Circulation, $31,361,418; increase, $126,916. Legal Tenders, $62,859,254; decrease, $3,761,107. Deposits, $213,411,984; decrease, $5,477,516.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

New York Financial Matters.

NEW YORK, November 26.—Money market active at 6@7 per cent. Sterling Exchange, 109@109½. Gold firmer, opening at 138½, advancing to 140¼, and closing at 140¼. Governments a shade better. Freights to Liverpool are firmer, at 4½d for Oats and Barley. In the Bank statement there was a decrease in the deposits of $847,716.

Stocks firm. Ft. W. 105½; M. & St. P. 56; do pref. 70½; C. & A. 113; I. C. 120; C. & P. 82; N. W. 42¾; do pref. 73¾; Toledo 113; N. Y. C. 110¾; Erie 73½; do pref. 84; Hudson 121¼; Reading 114½; M. S. 83¾; T. W. & W. 43. Gold 140¼. Five-twenty coupons, new issue, 108¾; do coupons of '62, 109; do do, of '64, 106⅜; W. U. Tel. 47½; Quicksilver 46½; O. & M. cert. 30; Tennessee 6s, 68½; New Treasury 7-30s, 105¾; 10-40 coupons, 100.

The Post's money article says: The Loan market is active at 7@8 per cent. The recent spasm has passed off, but it has left behind it a languor which checks business. The Stock market is better. Governments have advanced ¼@¾ per cent. above the lowest quotations of Saturday, and there is a very promising investment demand. Railway shares are active, and quotations are improving. After the regular Board the quotations were: New York Central, 110; Erie, 73⅜; Hudson, 120½; Reading, 114; Michigan Central, 122; Michigan Southern, 85⅝; Pittsburgh, 85¾; Northwestern, 42⅝; do. preferred, 72¾; Rock Island, 104¾; Fort Wayne, 105; Ohio & Mississippi Certificates, 28¾.

The Commercial's money article says: Money is a shade easier than on Saturday. There is a comparatively light demand for loans, and the rate is steady, at 7 per cent. on stock collaterals, and 6 per cent. on governments. Discounts are quiet, at 7 per cent. for choice names. Stocks show a general advance upon the quotations of Saturday. It is generally taken for granted that prices have touched bottom, and that those who have suffered are buying up again to recover their loss upon an advance movement. Bears are not offering any important resistance to the recovering tendency, and the tone of the market is upon the whole buoyant. Northwestern, preferred, advanced 1¼, and Ohio and Mississippi Certificates show a strong upward tendency. Governments quiet and slightly off from the figures of Saturday.

LATEST.

The money market continues to work easier and the offerings to-day were in excess of the demand. The early transactions were generally at 7 per cent. on call, but afterwards there was considerable business at 6 per cent, on stock and collaterals at 5 per cent. over governments. The discount market is quiet and unchanged, and prime paper is not done less than 7@8 per cent. The Foreign Exchange market is firm, and the amount of bankers bills offering is quite light. The supply of bills is moderate and prime bankers are quoted at 109⅝@109¾ for sixty days, and 110@110¼ for short sight. The Gold market remained firm to the close of the day, leaving off at 140¼. The following table will show the fluctuations during the day: 10 A. M., 139⅞; 11—139⅞; 11:30 A. M., 139¾; 12 M., 139⅞; 1 P. M., 139⅞; 3 P. M., 140⅛.

The Government securities were higher this afternoon, with an increased business. The following were the closing prices: Regular, 113½@113¾; coupons 1881, 112⅞@113; Five-Twenties, regular, 1862, 107⅛@107⅜; Five-Twenties, coupons 1862, 108⅞@109; do. 1864, 106⅜@107; do. 1865, 106⅞@107; do. 1865, January and July, 108⅛@108½; Ten-Forties, regular, 99¾@100; do coupons, 99⅞@100, August; Seven-Thirties, 105⅞@106; June do., 105⅝@105⅞; July do., 105⅝@105¾; June compounds 1864, 115¾; July do., 115⅝; August do., 114½; October do., 113⅞; December do., 112¾; May do. 1865, 111¾; August do. 110½; September do., 109; October do., 109¼.

Stocks at the last open board were firmer, with a fair demand for stocks generally. After the call Erie fell off one half per cent., and the entire list was a fraction lower for a time, but Fort Wayne took a sudden upward turn and sold as high as 106¾, which caused a firmer feeling again. The market has been advancing gradually all day and strong parties have been buying. There is a more confident feeling among the public, and the increased ease in money is stimulating a dull movement once more. The following are the closing prices: O. C. 39½c; Canton, 47¾@48; Boston W. P., 29½@30; Cumberland, 69½@70; Quicksilver, 46¾@47; Mariposa, 12¾@14; M. B., 112@113; N. Y. C., 110¾@111; Erie, 73⅝@73¾; Hudson, 121@122; Reading, 114⅛@114⅜.

New York Cattle Market.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The early part of the week was not characterized by that abject feeling of depression which we noticed last week. Still the market for beef cattle has shown no improvement in price. There is no buoyancy in the meat trade, and with the low figures which are now paid for offal but they cannot well afford to pay higher for their live stock, and added to this is an overstocked poultry market. The only offset to this was the decreased supply in the forepart of the week, there being over one thousand head less than last week. The arrivals at Bergen Hill up to Saturday reached 3,000 head, which were sold at about last week's quotations, which only, in exceptional cases, reached 16c, the bulk of sales being at 12@15c, while a few of the poorest went off at 10@11c.

On Monday morning the offering at the National yards aggregated 3,000 head, which in quality were pretty fair. The weather being favorable, butchers took hold pretty freely, and early in the day a slight advance was realized on the best grades. Common grades, however, did not do so well, and the owners were losers to some extent, and the whole business was slow and trade dragged along. There has been again some heavy losses among the drovers, which, though not so heavy as last week, were still sufficiently large to kill speculation among a certain class who, without means at their back, engaged in the cattle speculations, forced the market up, and led astray by a cotemporary whose responsible cattle market reporter is a feeder in Westchester county and speculates pretty heavily. They make now wry faces. The following is the prices of beeves at the National yards this week and last week. Poor to medium cattle per lb., 10@11c; last week, 10@11c. Medium to fair steers, 11@13c; last week, 11@13c. Good steers and fat oxen, 13@15c; last week, 13@15c. Prime steers, 15@16c; last week, 15@16c. The majority of sales were at 14@15c; last week, 13@15c. Average price, 13½@13¾c; last week, 13c. A few choice cattle sold at 16@17c; last week, 16@17c. The poorest cattle brought 6@9c; last week, 8@9c. Rough fat, 7@7½c; last week, 7@7½c. Green hides, 7@10c; last week, 7@10c.

The market for milch cows of prime grade, though not active, is but meager supplied and prices are very firmly supported. Common cows are, however, dull of sale and bring low figures. Extra good cows, $110@125; good, $80@100; common to medium cows, $55@75. The large stock of poultry now in the market has depressed the trade in veal, and consequently in live calves, the prices of which are rather easy. The prices of prime, very fat and choice exceed our figures a little, but they need be something very extra. Prime calves for custom butchers, per pound, 12½@13c; good veal calves, per pound, 10½@12½c; common veal calves, 8½@10½c. Calf skins, 25@27c gross. Calves, per head, $8@15.

Sheep and Lambs—The receipts of sheep, though somewhat larger than last week, have on the whole found a more ready sale than last week, as the trade in mutton has been more active, and thus the market for both sheep and lambs has ruled pretty steady during the whole of the week, closing to-day firm. We quote to-day common to fair sheep per lb, at 4½@5½c; good to prime sheep, 6@6½c; extra, 6½@7½c; lambs per lb, 6@8c. Wool skins, each, $1,12½@1,38. Swine—The arrivals have fallen off, while the demand has become more active and prices have improved, the market to-day closing firm at the annexed quotations: Best quality, live weight, per 100, $8,37½@8,62½; dressed per lb, 10@10½c; fair to good, live weight, $8,37½@8,50; dressed, 10@11c; common and rough, live weight, $8@8,25.

New York Produce Market.

NEW YORK, November 26.—Cotton firm, at 34½c for middling uplands, and 35c for Orleans; closing quiet. Flour 15@25c lower, at $10,00 for common extra State, $10,90@11,50 for extra round hoop Ohio, and $11,55@13,40 for trade brands, closing heavy. Whisky quiet and unchanged. Wheat dull and heavy, at 2@3c lower; $2,15 for Milwaukee, and $2,40 for No. 1. Rye heavy; State, at $1,28. Barley without change, at $1 for Canada West in bond; $1,20@1,30 do free; $1,20 for 4 rowed State. Corn dull, heavy and rather easier, at $1,24½ for shipping mixed western in store; $1,25 do afloat, and $1@1,05 for new yellow. Oats dull; at 62@64c for Chicago and Milwaukee. Stock of grain in New York warehouses, November 26, 1866: Wheat, 1,049,327 bush; corn, 2,330,892 bush; oats, 1,983,960 bush; rye, 356,527 bush; barley, 1,573,504 bush; malt, 63,975 bush; peas, 22,515 bush. RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point with five feet six inches in the channel by the Monongahela marks last evening. The weather yesterday was clear and pleasant, and very favorable for operations, at the landing.

We have no arrivals to report aside from the regular packets, and the Columbia, for Cincinnati, was the only transient departure. She had a fair trip, and engagements below—the Bayard left for Parkersburg on time, with a fair trip.

The Argosy, from Cincinnati, is due here to-day, and will return again on Wednesday, at noon. The Leni Leoti is due here from Parkersburg to-day.

Capt. Sam. Shuman left for Cincinnati yesterday afternoon by rail. It is rumored that the Nora has been, or is about to be sold to some parties for the Arkansas river trade, and, we presume, that Capt. Shuman's trip has something to do with the sale.

The following named tow boats have arrived here since Saturday last. Bengal Tiger, Lion, Lioness, Coal City, Tom Farrow, Hornet, N. J. Bigley, Hawk, Coal Valley, J. S. Neel, Sam Roberts, and Fearless. The Dolphin did not go out on the last rise, and the Collier, meeting with an accident to her machinery, was compelled to return to the city for repairs, and lost her trip. The Sam Roberts and Fearless left again on Sunday, with seven barges each, the former for Louisville, and the latter for Cincinnati.

The "Grand Lake" is the name of a very pretty and staunch looking towboat just about completed at our landing, and intended for the coal trade. She is owned, we believe, by Messrs. Williams, Patterson and Miller, and will be commanded by the first named gentleman.

The Glendale, Capt. Hare, with Capt. James Mellon in the office, will positively leave for St. Louis to-day. She is a bran new boat and has excellent accommodations for passengers.

The Camelia, Capt. Lytle, will leave for Nashville this evening or to-morrow without fail, and passengers and shippers should bear this fact in mind. The Camelia will take freight for all points between here and Nashville, including Cincinnati and Louisville.

The Rob Roy, of the "Accommodation Line" in command of Capt. Chas. Beers, will leave for St. Louis and all intermediate points this evening.

ANNOUNCEMENT — EXTRAORDINARY — The Louisville Courier, of Saturday, makes the following extraordinary announcement:

"Capt. Dravo has bought the Concert to run her between Pittsburgh and Seven-mile Island, in the produce business."

"Go abroad for the news at home" is an old adage, and in this case, a true one. We are aware that Capt. Dravo was here a few days since, but we were entirely ignorant of his having made a purchase until we saw it in the columns of the Courier.

The Silver Lake, from Pittsburgh, Nora, from Louisville, and Bellevernon, from Saint Louis, arrived at Cincinnati, on Saturday. We clip the following items from the Cincinnati Commercial, of Sunday:

A portion of the Belle Vernon's cargo consists of 100 tuns of iron for Wheeling, and fifty tuns for Pittsburgh ....Captain J. S. Wise yesterday received a dispatch from Nashville, reporting five and a feet on Harpeth Shoals, and falling fast............The J. W. Garret passed up from St. Louis to Wheeling with three barges of iron ore in tow. The Allegheny Belle No. 4 also left for Wheeling with two barges of merchandise in tow for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad............The Silver Lake No. 4 returns to Pittsburgh this morning, having engagements above for 200 tuns of iron, and fifty tuns of hay............The Nora reships her cargo from Louisville—200 tuns—on the Maggie Hays, and loads here for the Arkansas river. The Abeona also returns to the Arkansas river............Captain A. B. Crain, formerly of the West Virginia, is engaged in the oil business at Parkersburg.

JEFFERSONVILLE, IND., November 24, 7 P. M.—EDS. COM.—There is six feet eight inches in pass over the fall, and falling slowly. Weather cloudy and cool. The Ezra Porter, Armenia, Starlight, and Emerald passed down. The following towboats arrived: Wild Cat, Mary Ann, Arrow, Coal Hill, Antelope, Warner, Wild Duck, Neville, Ella, Hercules and Tigress, from Pittsburgh. The canal is full, from the locks to the head, of coal boats, and will not be clear until Sunday evening. Over one million bushels of coal is going below. The prettiest sight I ever saw was twenty-six steamboats out at one time, all busy puffing away at the same time, seeing who could get into the canal first—the water on the falls being too scant to pass over.

The Ezra Porter passed down from Pittsburgh for St. Louis with a full cargo, including over four hundred tons railroad iron. The Spray also passed down from Pittsburgh for Louisville with a full cargo. The Argosy departed for Pittsburgh with but a moderate trip. Representatives from the Board of Underwriters of Pittsburgh, St. Louis and Louisville, meet the Board of Underwriters of Cincinnati on Tuesday, the 27th inst., in this city, to take into consideration the present rate of insurance on hulls &c. Capt. Thos. Murdock yesterday sold the steamer Oceola to Captain E. B. Granger of Rising Sun, Indiana, for $12,000. Captain Granger formerly commanded the Lady Franklin and T. J. Emery, and contemplates loading the Oceola for the Southern coasting trade.
